Note: Normally I would tell you exactly what colour cardstock and what Designer Series Paper (DSP) I used to make the card in the video tutorial. However, this project was designed as a paper stash buster so I used a lot of discontinued cardstock and DSP. The point is, this card can be used with any combination of colours, papers, and embellishments you want to suit any occasion. Use one DSP for all three patterned areas or use 3 different ones. It is totally up to you!

Cut Plan

Supply List

* This information is accurate at the time of writing, but is subject to change.

While some of the supplies I used in the video are no longer available, below are my suggestions for essential tools and some products that would be perfect for this style of Easter Card. Remember, all products featured in a Suite can also be purchased individually.

If you are in Australia, I would love to be your crafty enabler! You can shop my store at bridgeta.stampinup.net. If you already have a good relationship with an independent demonstrator, please keep supporting them. If you live in another country, look up 'Stampin' Up!' to find a demonstrator near you.
